COUNCIL HELD BUSY SESSION MONDAY NIGHT

GROUP WAS PRESENT TO OBJECT TO REZONING MIESSE PROPERTY

All councilmen were present for Monday night's meeting. A delegation from the Stilesville road just beyond the division of east Washington street, was on hand to object to rezoning the Miesse property from residential to business, but in as much as the Planning Commission has not brought this matter before the council, even though they took action on it a month ago, there was nothing the council could do about it and the remonstrance will be held over until such time as the body gets ready for action on this matter.

The claims were allowed, totaling $7,519.80.

The council also passed a unanimous endorsement that stock buyers be permitted to use the ground east of road 43 and south of the Big Four railroad, for stock buying and selling. The location was once the site of the Big Four stock yards, and it was understood that livestock bought and sold there would be moved immediately and not held for days until sold.

A contract had been prepared by the city attorney for adoption of the city and township whereby the township receives $3900 annually from the township for fire protection if the levy does not apply to both the city and township, but if it applies to both, then the township will pay $7,800.

The ordinance licensing junk dealers was passed by a unanimous vote. It provides a fee of $50 per year for local junk dealers; $25 per year for itinerant junk peddlers and $75 per year for itinerant junk dealers and peddlers. A bond for the fulfillment of their bargain must also be filed by local junk dealers and in case they do not live up to the agreement and one suffers a loss, they can be reimbursed from this bond. A violation calls for a $100 to $500 per day fine.

Clerk Norman Peabody offered evidence that the city has funds available. He showed the general fund started the year 1957 with $183,000 and about $15,000 has been spent.

A resolution to buy stone from the France Stone Co., was also passed.

The parking meter funds brought in $22,518 last year and the city spent $20,857 of this sum. It is used to pay a lot of things.

Mayor Crawley reported that additional funds are needed for the streets and that the legislature has promised to give the city more gas and other funds.

The question of training 24 volunteer firemen came up for discussion. They will be trained five men at a time and under the direct supervision of regular firemen. They will not be permitted to go out along with equipment, but may become available for use of it in cases of emergencies.

Mayor Crawley said more parking meters, especially the 10 hour kind are needed and will be bought. They are being bought piece meal, or a few at a time, so that bids on them won't have to be taken. Last night's claims paid for nearly $1,000 being called for parking meters.

Once these new type meters are installed, the mayor said one hour parking down town will be strictly enforced so that traffic can be kept moving.

At the last meeting in February bids will be received for gas and oil and for bituminous materials for use on the city streets next summer.

Mayor Foresees Some Additions

Mayor Evan Crawley revealed at the council meeting Monday evening that 1957 promises to be a banner year for the city. The chances are that the city will have a new third fire truck during the year, that a new addition to the city hall will have to be built to house it and thirdly the water and sewage departments have outgrown their present quarters and an addition will be erected on the south of the building for additional space for these departments. There is plenty of room on the south side for this addition and of course the new fire truck will be housed on the east side of the present building where the firemen now park autos and where the scales were.

The chances are that the new addition here will also have a new council chamber where such meetings as was held Monday night will be held in the future.

RAISE TAXES, SLASH BUDGET SAYS HANDLEY

STATE'S NEW CHIEF EXECUTIVE GIVE LEGISLATIVE PLANS

INDIANAPOLIS (UP)—Governor Handley today recommended that the Indiana Legislature raise the taxes of millions of Hoosiers and slash a record proposed biennial budget to avoid "the biggest fiscal crisis in more than a century."

Handley bared his legislative program before a joint session of the House and Senate a scant 24 hours after his inauguration. He said one of his first acts will be to issue an executive order to department heads to reduce their expenditures in the final quarter of the present fiscal year by at least three per cent.

Handley flatly advocated "an immediate increase" in gasoline taxes now the lowest in the nation at four cents a gallon. He proposed the increase be made effective immediately upon enactment of a bill into law.

Although he did not specify the size of an increase, he informed the legislators a two cent per gallon hike would yield about 30 million dollars a year and a three cent increase 45 millions.

His mention of a three cent increase came as somewhat of a surprise. Most speculation has centered about the probability of a two cent boost.

Handley took a poke at the 1955 legislature for not raising taxes. "Had the 1955 legislature increased our state gasoline tax," he said, "as some of us advocated vigorously at the time, we would be in far better financial shape than we are today."

Handley recommended all tax increases and additions be earmarked. "It is my firm belief that any changes in present taxes should be dedicated for specific uses," he said. He opposed a sales tax as "unfair" and inadequate.

Handley said a state gross income tax withholding system would "have an evil effect" by "numbing the consciences of the average citizen to the taxes he is inclined to favor this proposal to average the taxes citizens are paying. Nevertheless, he said he would "be inclined to favor" his proposed with some restrictions.

He should not, he advised, consider any new general taxes until every possible loophole is closed in the present gross income tax structure.

Handley said if anticipated revenue is below the amount needed after the budget is pared and "some tax increase are then proposed," he will recommend passage of a companion bill to

50 BELOW ZERO BLAST RECORDED IN N. Y. STATE

MOUNTAIN VIEW, N. Y., IS COLDEST PLACE IN UNITED STATES

The full brunt of a cold air wave gripping much of the nation east of the Rockies swept into the East today, plunging temperatures to a low of 50 degrees below zero in upper New York State.

And weathermen foresaw no relief from the numbing cold as a new invasion of Arctic air blew into the northern Plains, whipping up fresh snow storms and clouds of dust.

A United Press survey showed at least 16 deaths have been blamed on the frigid weather, the coldest of the season.

Temperatures moderated somewhat overnight in the north and central plains, the Mississippi Valley and the Great Lakes, but still hovered near the zero mark. The readings were in contrast to 20 below and lower readings in the area the night before.

New York and upper New England reported the nation's coldest overnight readings, with below zero readings common throughout the region.

Mountain View, N. Y., had 50 below, Massena, N. Y., had 45 below, Albany 24 below and Syracuse 17 below. It was 20 below at Burlington, Vt. New York City reported an early morning reading of five above zero. Monday's low of 7.8 in New York City was the coldest since Dec. 31, 1955, when the mercury dropped to 5.9 degrees above.

APPEALS STUDIED

CHICAGO (UP)—The United Steelworkers Executive Board today took under advisement appeals by five "rebel" members who claimed they were denied places on the ballot for international offices.

The five are backers of Don C. Rarick, 37, a millhand from McKeesport, Pa., who is seeking to replace David J. McDonald as president of the union.

The board, which includes McDonald, Vice President Howard R. Hague and Secretary-Treasurer I. W. Abel, heard testimony from the "rebels" and then adjourned after midnight without a decision.

implement the withholding system, applicable only to employers of 10 persons or more.

Handley said if the Legislature fails to be realistic about the prospects of deficit spending, "it would propel us into the biggest fiscal crisis that has confronted the state in more than a century."

The new governor urged the lawmakers to forego "stop-gap solutions" to the fiscal problem and "keep the long-range picture in focus." He repeated an earlier statement that the proposed budget for 1957-1958 is "utterly fantastic." It called for expenditures of 790 million dollars over a two-year period.

Handley also:

1. Urged the Legislature to provide matching funds to implement the federal highway program.

2. Recommended continuation of the present percentage distribution of state highway tax revenues.

3. Patted the state on the back for providing new school classrooms "twice as fast as the advocates of federalized education say we should."

4. Said if the staff contributes a bigger share toward teacher salaries "it should come from a new tax arrangement—an education tax."

5. Proposed no state money be loaned for building school gymnasiums.

6. Recommended establishment of a school of veterinary medicine at Purdue.

7. Recommended consideration of a net income tax on businesses.

8. Endorsed retiring Governor Craig's proposal of establishment of an intermediate reform school for first offenders.

9. Suggested periodic examination of all automobiles and drivers.

But tax and fiscal problems were uppermost in Handley's mind as he read a 22-page message to the legislators.

"The proposed budget," he reminded them, "now totals $790,084,813. Thus, it calls for at least 108 million dollars more than the estimated receipts."

"If adopted as it is in its original form, it would completely use up the remaining balance in the State Treasury which experts say should not drop below 49 millions and also would call for the levying of 70 million dollars of new taxes."

He put it bluntly:

"It is obvious that the proposed budget must be cut drastically, and government expenditures curtailed or else taxes must be raised accordingly. Such increased taxes would affect every person living in Indiana."

Gomulka Bows To Red Policy

WARSAW (UP)—Communist China Premier Chou En-lai, having won Polish Communist Leader Wladyslaw Gomulka into accepting Moscow's leadership of world Communist policy, returns to Warsaw today for further talks with Polish leaders.

Gomulka, who has led Poland's Campaign for greater independence from Soviet domination, bowed to Moscow Monday in an election speech.

"Our foreign policy must be such that it strengthens the position of Poland in the world and also strengthens the position of Poland's friends, headed by the Soviet Union," Gomulka declared.

Gov. Shivers Names Eisenhower Democrat

AUSTIN, Texas (UP)—Gov. Allan Shivers, as his last official act before leaving office, today appointed William A. Blakley, a Dallas attorney and an "Eisenhower Democrat" to succeed Gov. Elect Price Daniel in the U. S. Senate.

The appointment of an Eisenhower partisan posed an immediate threat to the slim Democratic control of the upper house.

However, there was no immediate indication whether Blakley will challenge the Democratic hold on the Senate by voting with the Republicans. This would result in a 48-48 tie, and throw control to the GOP when Vice President Richard Nixon would cast his tie-breaking vote.

WHEAT SHORTAGE SEEN

FARGO, N. D. (UP)—The North Dakota Farm Bureau has warned the U. S. Department of Agriculture that not enough durum wheat will be planted this spring to meet the market demand.

The Farm Bureau said in a statement Monday that an incentive program must be put into operation in order to prevent a shortage of the hard wheat used for noodles, macaroni and spaghetti.

Congress Demos Facing
Intra-Party Squabbles

Punishment May Result
From Campaign Actions

Special to Central Press Association

WASHINGTON—When the Democrats take control of the new 85th Congress in January, look for family quarrels to break out.

Adam Clayton Powell, Harlem congressman, will be the storm center of one. He openly urged Negroes to vote Republican during the election. Already, Democratic leaders have cut off his patronage allowance of two jobs and may decide to take away his committee posts. All this despite his seniority on the House labor committee—he's third-ranking Democrat.

If such a move comes up, however, northern Democrats are likely to be just as insistent that the same punishment be meted out to Rep. John Bell Williams (D), Mississippi, who also repudiated the national ticket on behalf of States Rights Candidate T. Coleman Andrews.

In the Senate, some northern Democrats are grumbling over the "don't rock the boat" leadership exercised in the last session by Senator Lyndon Johnson of Texas, the majority floor leader. They are convinced that his refusal to take a firm stand on civil rights and labor legislation cost the party heavily in their sectors of the country.

If they press for action on civil rights, there is likely to be a battle royal in the judiciary committee whose chairman is Senator James O. Eastland, a strong pro-segregationist.

● FOREIGN POLICY—The United States, faced with the crisis in the Middle East, is resisting strong British-French pressure to change its course. The State department, reflecting high-level administration policy, is sticking with its insistence that the Anglo-French-Israeli forces pull out of Egypt—even at the risk of making Egypt's President Gamal Abdel Nasser a "strong man" among Arab states.

The United States, however, feels that winning friends among the big bloc of Afro-Asian peoples is more important than the high stakes of oil and other issues in the Middle East. Officials also argue, if the long-range battle to bring the Asian and Africans into the free world camp is won, the Middle East situation will resolve itself.

Basically, the United States is standing on a policy of opposing colonialism in all of its forms. Thus, on the one hand, the Americans oppose Britain and France on their moves into Egypt, but also vigorously fight via every diplomatic means the Soviet Russian drive into Hungary and Moscow's threats against other satellites.

If a solution can be found in the Middle East, officials believe, then Russia will be the big loser. Neutralist nations will become "neutral toward the west" rather than accepting the propaganda from Moscow.

● POPULATION AND POLITICS—Future-minded Democrats and Republicans are finding plenty to cheer about in current population trends.

Democrats, who scored some substantial gains west of the Mississippi river in the congressional elections, point out that the West is gaining population more rapidly than the East. This means they ought to have a good chance of picking up still more seats after the census of 1960 results in a re-distribution of House districts.

Republicans, on the other hand, point out that Florida and Texas are no longer Democratic strongholds and that they, too, will have their delegations to Congress enlarged.

The GOP also notes happily that such states in the Deep South as Alabama, Mississippi and North Carolina, where Democrats still reign supreme, are almost sure to lose a few seats because of their population lags.

This is offset somewhat by the fact that the nation's rural population, which is traditionally Republican, is declining in size.

ATOMIC MOBILITY IS THE AIM

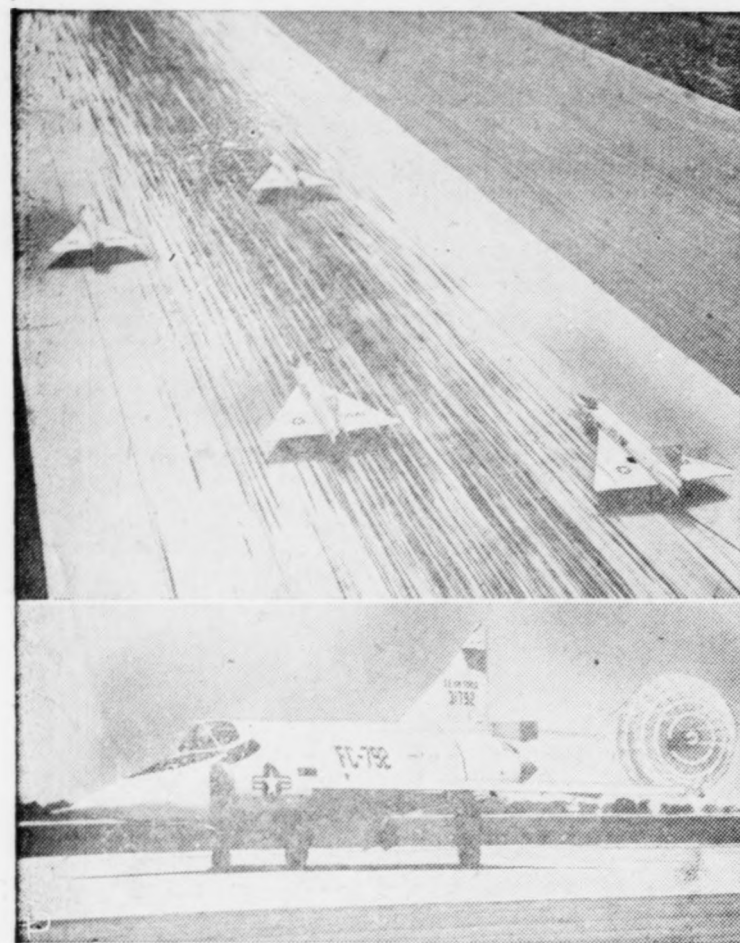

INFANTRY DIVISIONS: To be cut from 17,455 men to 13,755 men.

AIRBORNE DIVISIONS: To be cut from 17,100 men to 11,500 men.

ABILITY TO DISPERSE on an atomic battlefield, and greater mobility are given as reasons for these projected cuts in size of U. S. infantry and airborne divisions. Put more men in small, highly-technical, missile-firing units detached from divisions and operating farther behind the lines, is the idea, says Defense department.

Tigers Host To Butler Netters

Saddled with its first league loss Saturday, DePauw will be fighting to stay atop the Indiana Collegiate Conference standings in a crucial tilt with Butler here tonight at 7:30.

The Bengals own a 5-1 record after dropping a 18-76 thriller at Valparaiso, and late-starting Butler has a 1-1 mark following a similar two-point victory at home over Evansville, 89-87.

Coming up fast with three straight conference wins and only one loss are Ball State's Cardinals, who will take over the top rung if DePauw falters.

Injuries continued to jinx Cal Luther's Tigers in the Valpo game, with first-string guard Joe Lawlor suffering a severe back injury during the first quarter.

The third regular lost by DePauw in the last three weeks, Lawlor followed forward Bob Schrier and center Chuck Cleaver to the sidelines. Schrier suited up for Saturday's tilt but did not see action.

Negroes Start Passive Policy

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (UP)—Negro leaders of the deep South's bus integration movement embarked today on a Gandhi-like non-violence policy which they hope will "shame" white extremists who dynamited churches and homes in Montgomery.

The Rev. Martin Luther King, leader of the Montgomery movement, declared the policy Monday night at a mass meeting of Negroes and then collapsed and had to be helped to his seat.

"If anyone be killed, let it be me," King said in an emotion-charged prayer.

About 500 Negroes attending the rally acclaimed King's leadership with a deafening outburst of shouting and weeping that lasted 15 minutes.

King said segregationist extremists would have to dynamite 50,000 homes—not just two—to dissuade them from their cause. He told the mass meeting the unity of the Negroes "will soon cause the oppressor to become ashamed of his own methods."

Four Negro churches and the homes of two ministers were bombed early last Thursday. King said the violence was "the most startling and appalling expression of man's inhumanity to man."

Buses at Montgomery remained idle today as a result of the bombings but in Tallahassee, Fla., buses rolled without incident under a new law giving the operators responsibility for keeping the races seated separately.

Officials in Birmingham, Ala., gave no indication of when a hearing will be held on the federal suit of Negroes challenging the constitutionality of the bus segregation law of that city.

MOTORIST WINS
CAMDEN, N. J. (UP)—A patrolman handed an auto driver a ticket for speeding and threw a carbon sheet of the summons to the roadway. The motorist promptly swore out a citizen's warrant against the officer for littering a public thoroughfare. In court a few nights later, the motorist was fined $14, the cop, $25.

FAIRLY SPOKEN

Bloomers To Bikinis In Women's Fashions

By Margaret Latrobe

The Bicycle Institution of America has just found out who is responsible for women's freedom of dress.

"If Grandma didn't have the spunk to go bik-riding in her bloomers way back there in the 90's, there is considerable doubt that the young ladies of today would be wearing strapless bathing suits, baring their midriffs, or sporting the tricky shorts-and-bra costumes that are so familiar to us now," says the Institute.

Although New York's Amelia Bloomer stitched up the first frightening outfit called "bloomers" in 1849, the first American bicycle didn't roll from the manufacturer's plant in Hartford, Conn., until 1877. What Mrs. Amelia's Turkish pantaloons beneath a short skirt and blouse were in tended for between '49 and '77 is lost in the dusts of history. But by the 90's when bicycling became fashionable for women, young ladies took a quick gander at the only available costume—bloomers—and cried out for something with chic.

They got it. (Fashion never slams a Dior in the faces of female clothes customers.) A special cycling costume was soon available, and a thing of beauty it was. "Very wide knickerbockers, not unlike the bloomers in shape; stockings, high boots or shoes, a simple shirt with collar and tie; and a soft felt hat without trimming." Later, states the Institute, knickerbockers were superseded by divided skirts. And not a moment too soon, if you ask me.

Once the girls got the handlebars in their fists, their lists of sports grew longer—golf, tennis, swimming, horseback riding. And their costumes got shorter — skirts an unbelievable four inches from the floor, then knee-length with rolled hosiery, then slacks, shorts and the regrettable halter, reaching a bare minimum in the Bikini swim suit.

Though suffrage, two wars and a depression may have influenced fashion in their own ways, the bicycle industry claims the original credit for getting women out of stays, hoop skirts and crinolines.

"Yes, the bicycle has played a commanding role in women's long fight for freedom of dress," says the Institute. "Being fickle creatures, what will women do next?"

Come to think of it, gentlemen, they've already done it. Right straight back to flounces, waist-cinchers and crinoline department. Except when bicycling, of course.

Before he moved to Greencastle, Mr. Moorehead was involved in a car accident with a driver who had no insurance. It was a painful experience—both physically and financially.

Naturally, therefore, Mr. Moorehead was insistent as he talked to us recently about auto liability insurance. "There ought to be a law against it," he said emphatically.

You'll be glad to know," I said, "that the insurance industry has come up with an even better solution. It's the new Uninsured Motorist coverage available for family automobile policies. It provides protection from damages done by uninsured motorists. It applies while your family is riding in a car, walking, or even bicycling.

"It offers much broader protection than a compulsory law. For example, it covers damages from uninsured out-of-state cars, hit and run drivers, cars used without insurance in violation of law, and even from drivers of stolen cars."

"That's great news," Mr. Moorehead said with a broad smile. "It certainly has been needed. Always before, even if a person carried plenty of insurance, he ran the risk of being the innocent victim of an accident involving a driver who didn't have any insurance. I know I'd rather pay a little extra and protect myself and family from this hazard."

"Fine," I said. "I think most auto owners will want this extra protection as soon as they know about it."

May we discuss all the new features of good AUTO insurance with YOU?

a club finesse to Mr. Bull's king. Mr. Bull realized he had to lead hearts, but he didn't know which heart to lead.

He led the nine of hearts, not the wisest choice. Mr. Best played low, and Mr. Lamb had to play the ace in order to win the trick. A heart return went to Mr. Bull's king, but now Mr. Best had the queen of hearts and could easily win the rest of the tricks.

JACK BETTER LEAD
Mr. Bull asked how he could have defeated the contract, and Mr. Best obligingly gave him the solution. In beginning the heart suit, East must lead precisely the jack of hearts.

As we have seen, it does no good to lead the nine of hearts first. It is equally useless to begin with the king of hearts. If East continues with the jack of hearts, South covers with the queen and dummy's ten becomes a winner.

If East begins with the jack of hearts, South must cover with the queen to prevent the jack from winning a trick. West takes the ace of hearts and leads another heart through dummy's ten. If dummy plays low, East can win with the nine; and if dummy puts up the ten, East takes the king and then wins another trick with the nine.

PROGRAM IS OUTLINED BY GOV. HANDLEY

INDIANAPOLIS (UP)—Harold Handley, in office only 24 hours as Indiana's new governor, laid bare his legislative program today in a joint meeting of the Indiana House and Senate.

With a Republican margin of 108-41 in the two Houses and GOP leadership largely on Handley's side in party factional squabbles, the new governor told the 90th General Assembly how he thought the state should be run the next four years.

Observers predicted Handley would "suggest" rather than "boss" the Legislature in an effort to avoid the bitter factional fights that plagued former Gov. George N. Craig.

Earlier, Senate minority leader Matthew Welsh D., Vincennes predicted any "right to work" bill would die in committee. Welsh said GOP members in control of House and Senate labor committees probably would like to avoid putting Handley in the position of having to sign or veto such a bill.

Rep. Robert S. Webb R-Arcadia, House majority leader, said he will handle Administration bills in the house and the first probably will be introduced later this week.

Webb said Handley's bills would be introduced a little at a time to avoid the fights that developed when Craig's legislative program was brought up "all at once."

Welsh's "right to work" statement followed reports that a compromise to avoid such a law was in the making. The report was Democrats would accept a bill requiring a secret strike vote of union members if the "right to work" bill is sidetracked. The latter bill would outlaw union shops, wherein workers must join a union to keep their jobs.

Sen. Roy Conrad R-Monticello, chairman of the Senate Labor Committee, said he has not con- vassed his committee on "right to work" and does not know if it would be approved.

Sen. D. Russell Bontrager R., Elkhart, a leading advocate of the law, said he would not introduce it in the Senate. But he said he would offer a measure to put "teeth" into the law prohibiting use of compulsory union dues for political purposes.

Strike Looms At Missile's Base

COCOA, Fla. (UP)—Pan American World Airways representatives worked today to avoid a threatened strike by some 400 civilian maintenance workers at the guided missile base in Cocoa.

The workers said Monday they will walk off the job Wednesday midnight unless they are given the "right to vote by secret ballot on whether we want a union."

The non-union carpenters, plumbers and mechanics, are under a Pan-Am division. Pan American supplies some 2,000 workers to the missile base under a contract with the government.

PAPERS AT MERCY OF NEWSPRINT SUPPLIERS

NEW YORK (UP)—Newspaper publishers are "in a strait jacket" and at the mercy of newsprint suppliers who are now raising their prices, Cranston Williams, general manager of the American Newspapers Ass'n., said today.

Williams made the statement after the Bowater Paper Corp. Ltd. announced a $4 a ton increase in price. It was the fourth large newsprint supplier to raise prices in the last two weeks.

Because newsprint is in such tight supply, Williams said, publishers are unable to shop around for it and must accept the increases or go out of business.

KILLED AT CROSSING

LAPORTE, Ind. (UP)—Charles Vinyard, 40, Logansport was killed early today when his automobile crashed into a Grand Trunk Western Railroad freight train on U. S. 421, two miles south of Westville.

Mrs. Edna Summa, 38, Knox, was seriously injured and taken to Holy Family Hospital here.

State police said the automobile skidded 150 feet on dry pavement into the train's first engine. State police said they believed the flasher lights at the crossing were working.

BUFFALO, N. Y. (UP)—One of the most contented employees of the Buffalo General Hospital is an elderly table waiter once assigned to the Russian general staff.

Latvian army colonel and his wife came to this country five years ago because they "suffered too much under the Russians." One of their happiest moments, they said, was when they became U. S. citizens this year.

A native of Riga, Cepitas had to serve with the Russian Army in World War I because Latvia then was under Russian domination. He remained in military service after his country became independent, retiring in 1935 to his two farms near Riga.

"Then, the Russians came again in 1940," he said. "They took away my farms and my army pension and forced me to work in the factories."

CAN YOU GUESS THE CORRECT ANSWER?

THE MOTOR VEHICLE TAXES—ON THE AVERAGE—PAID BY THE OPERATOR OF THIS TRACTOR-TRAILER IN ONE YEAR EQUAL THE TOTAL MOTOR VEHICLE TAXES PAID BY THE OWNERS OF HOW MANY AVERAGE PASSENGER CARS?

(Check one, then see correct answer below.)

☐ 18

☐ 11

The total tax bill on this five-axle truck registered in Indiana has lately been increased to $2,606.09 a year. So the answer to the question above is the high figure—18 times the taxes on an automobile, which now average $141.36 a year in Indiana.

The State of Indiana and its government sub-divisions get the greater share of that $2,606.09 average. The amount to the state and the local units is $1,395.29, the remainder going to the federal government.

And here's another point to note: When Congress last summer passed the federal highway bill, the new taxes levied therein—including special taxes on trucks alone—shaped a startling conception of taxation limits. It's this: average taxes on some classes of Indiana trucks now equal the cost of the truck in six years' time!

You can see from this that the more trucks are put to work by Indiana business and agriculture the less your individual share in the tax feeding of budgets for road building and maintenance. Because here, for instance, you, the car owners, are out-matched by a truck 18 to 1 in motor vehicle taxes!

CENTER OF PEACE PAGEANT

A CRANE hoists a 65-foot Engelmann spruce into position on the White House lawn, where it will be focal point of a worldwide Christmas "Pageant of Peace." Federal Court here with the government charging he evaded almost $250,000 in corporate and individual income taxes from 1949-1953.

United States Atty. Jack C. Brown said he is ready to submit about 1,000 exhibits as evidence against Yunker.

Yunker, 77, was arrested last January for evading taxes in 1949. A federal grand jury later added nine counts of tax evasion to the indictment.

Gas, Fuel Price Probe Is Asked

WASHINGTON (UP)—Two senators—a Republican and a Democrat—are calling for a Senate investigation of increases in gas and fuel oil prices.

Sen. W. Kerr Scott, D-N. C., announced he is drafting a resolution that would create a special Senate committee to do the job.

Sen. J. Glenn Beall, R-Md., called on the Senate Banking and Currency Committee to do it.

Earlier, Sen. Margaret Chase Smith, R-Maine, said the government should step in if necessary to prevent "a fuel oil price gouge on Americans."

The Justice Department only last week announced an investigation of the price increases. The department wants to know if the major oil firms raised prices according to some agreement. That would be illegal.

Nine out of 10 forest fires are caused by man, the National Geographic Society says. However, insects and diseases kill ten times as many trees as fire.

DECLINES OFFER
WARWICK, England (UP)—Sir Anthony Eden's 26-year-old son Nicholas has declined an offer to replace his father as parliamentary representative for this constituency.

He told the local Conservative Party that "at the present time, he was not ready to enter politics," a party official said. Monday, Eden resigned his parliamentary seat shortly after he gave up office as prime minister last week.

BRITISH TO GET U. S. SIDE OF THE SUZ SUZ
LONDON (UP)—Britain tonight gets a first hand television report of the American side of the Suez story.

The program, "Our American Cousins," will be broadcast over independent television. It is a direct result of Anglo-American relations which reached a new low in the Suez crisis. The program is based on two letters.

One from an Englishman said "The sooner we British get out of the alliance with the Americans, the better."

One from an American answered, "Okay buddies, if you don't like our peaches quit shaking our tree."

SENATOR CAPEHART INTRODUCES MEASURE
WASHINGTON (UP)—Sen. Homer E. Capehart, R-Ind., and six co-sponsors introduced a bill Monday to establish a national monetary and financial commission.

The measure would carry out President Eisenhower's call for an overall inquiry into the nature, performance and adequacy of the U. S. financial system.

A few hours later Sen. Charles I. Potter, R-Mich., said failure of labor and management to heed President Eisenhower's plea against unreasonable price and wage increases could provoke the government to move in with "restrictive legislation."

MINNEAPOLIS (UP)—Three persons, including a fireman, have been killed in two home fires here and a $600,000 blaze that destroyed a Fuller Brush Co. warehouse in neighboring St. Paul.

Walter Rose, 61, a fireman, collapsed on the steps of the burning warehouse Monday while battling the flames. Authorities said he died of a heart attack, apparently brought about by smoke inhalation or over-exertion.

Separate residential fires Monday claimed the lives of Carl Schmidowski, 82, and Oscar Johnson, 77.

A total of seven persons have died in fires in Minnesota since Saturday night.

BRITISH CABINET MEETS
LONDON (UP)—The new British cabinet headed by Prime Minister Harold MacMillan met for the first time today.

The meeting was held at 10 Downing St., official residence of Britain's prime minister. As is customary, no announcement was made on the topics discussed.

The new rightwing Conservative Cabinet was formally confirmed by Queen Elizabeth at a Privy Council meeting Monday. The Queen then returned to Sandringham House in Norfolk to resume the winter vacation she interrupted twice in the past week because of the government crisis.
